National Spirit Rife at Opening of Cincinnati Symphony Season.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 27.—Patriotism ran at flood-tide yesterday afternoon when the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra opened its local concert season at Emery auditorium. The Times-Star said about the opening:

The red, white and blue of flags used effectively as decorations formed a fitting background for the numerous spots of khaki brown filling choice seats at the opening concert of the Cincinnati Symphony season in the Emery auditorium Friday afternoon. Many soldiers from Ft. Thomas availed themselves of the invitation extended by the Orchestra association and swelled the already generous proportions of the audience.

Brown wool, gliding swiftly and silently through the fingers of the women, added the last patriotic touch to the occasion. Applause, continued for some minutes from all parts of the hall, greeted Dr. Kunwald, who received his ovation with bows of appreciation.

There was a great burst of enthusiasm when the orchestra played "The Star Spangled Banner" at the end of the first half of the concert. Dr. Kunwald was given a floral tribute.

The Cincinnati orchestra opens the Richmond musical season with a concert in the Coliseum Wednesday night, Nov. 7. Emil Heermann is to be soloist.

Robert Lacey, 15 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lacey, of Chicago, former Richmond residents, who has enlisted in the navy and is in training at Clark Camp, Chicago, writes to his grandmother, Mrs. J. M. Lacey, of Richmond. He tells of the joy caused by packages from home.

The letter follows:
Dear Grandmother—I received your letter and package and I sure was glad to get them. We don't have any sweet things up here not even milk or sugar in our coffee. But all of us fellows on this ship have a good time together. But it isn't like receiving little remembrances from home. The things I get from home or anything, always put a new spilt in me, and make me feel very enthusiastic to fight for my home and country.

I sent my first letter just a day or two before I got your package. So I am sending you this to tell you how things from home give a sailor new life. I sure would be glad to get that sweater you spoke of in your letter. I can't even express how dear to me things like that are. When a cold "port wind" comes up and you have a

Junior High School Notes

The Garfield lunch room will be opened Tuesday, Nov. 6. The lunch room provides a warm lunch to the children who live a distance from school and have to bring their dinners. The lunch room will maintain the same rules as were held last year. It is hoped that it may not be necessary to increase the price of food. The lunches served will be carried out according to the food conservation instructions.

The board of publication is now working on a schedule of chapel programs for the remainder of the term. This board is trying to arrange for a varied line of work. One certain form of a chapel program often becomes tiresome to the children. The programs under consideration are: Talks, musicals, debates, reading, etc. The interesting chapel which was held in the chapel on October 26th, had the following program: March, orchestra; scripture reading, Mr. Helronimus; piano duet, Kathryn Rausch and Ruth Otte; song, Boys' Glee club; violin solo, George Wissler; soprano solo, Iona Wentling; song, Girls' chorus; number by Garfield orchestra; soprano solo, Pauline McPherson; French horn solo, Maurice Minnick, and closing march by the orchestra. Everyone was pleased with the program.

The girls of Garfield school will hold their annual Halloween party in the Gymnasium Tuesday evening at the close of school. Miss Wickemeyer is to be in charge. A program of Halloween fun is being prepared. All of the girls are encouraged to bring such things that are possible to decorate the gym, such as leaves strung on strings or corn stalks and pumpkins. The girls are to bring branches from trees with different colors of leaves. All of Garfield girls must come masked. Each is to have a partner from his own class and all are to bring lunch to eat at the close of the party. The girls are to bring roasted peanuts with the hulls on and a hat pin. What is to be done with the things is a mystery to most of the girls.

CHAMBERS SURE TO MAKE TRY FOR CONGRESS

Newcastle Editor and Senator Expected To Enter Race in Spring.

It is generally understood that Walter Scott Chambers of Newcastle, will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for representative in congress from the sixth Indiana district, at the Democratic nominating election to be held next March.

Chambers is one of the best known Democrats in the sixth district. He is a member of the Indiana legislature, serving as a senator from Henry county; is chairman of the Democratic district organization, and is the editor of the Newcastle Times, the leading Democratic newspaper of the sixth district.

Whether Mr. Chambers will have any opposition for the Democratic congressional nomination is not known, but at this time, it appears improbable that anyone will make the race against him.

Mentioned Last Spring. Chambers was prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Democratic congressional nomination last spring prior to the special election held in June to elect a successor to the late D. W. Comstock. When former Congressman Finly H. Gray, of Connersville, expressed a desire to again enter the contest, Chambers refused to oppose him.

Having been defeated by the late Judge Comstock at the election in November of last year, and by Richard N. Elliott, the Republican nominee, at the special election last June, Mr. Gray, is no longer considered a factor in Democratic politics in the sixth district and, it is said, Democratic leaders now regard Chambers as the strongest candidate their party can offer for congressional honors.
